

HOOVER TO SEEK ROOSEVELT VIEWS,
EUROPEAN DEBTS

President Speeds East to Write
New Page in American History

CONFERENCE SOON

Stop is Made by Chief Executive at the Hoover Dam

By George E. Durnan
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL. SPECIAL
ENROUTE TO WASHINGTON.
Nov. 14.—(INS)—President Hoover sped eastward today to write a new and dramatic page into American history.

Within a few days he will engage in a White House Conference with President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt that will have world-wide repercussions.
Principally, Mr. Hoover is seeking the views of his successor on revision of the World War debts, now being demanded by all of the European powers, and immediate extension of the moratorium.

Also, however, the President wants to ascertain Governor Roosevelt's position on disarmament, the forthcoming world economic conference and other major international problems
"which could not be concluded during my administration."

The President's invitation to the President-elect to stop off in Washington on his way south the latter part of this week was telegraphed to Albany late Saturday night from Boulder City, Nev., where the Hoover Special paused to permit inspection of Hoover Dam. International News Service reported last Thursday that the Executive planned this momentous stop.

In calling his successor into immediate conference, Mr. Hoover is taking a new stride in American politics and statesmanship. He also will place squarely on the shoulders of Governor Roosevelt the responsibility for any action taken with respect to debt revision and postponement of the payments due December 15.

Mr. Hoover wired Secretary of State Stimson in Washington to dispatch full copies to Albany immediately of all notes on the subject received from Great Britain, France and other debtor nations so that the President-elect might be informed adequately of developments.

In behalf of President Hoover, it was emphasized aboard train today that this government will enter into international debt discussions with "an absolutely free hand." No commitments have been made, it was asserted, and no negotiations have been undertaken to date.

The executive did, however, make known his own position in the telegram to Governor Roosevelt.

"I have publicly stated my position as to these questions," Mr. Hoover wired, "including that I do not favor cancellation in any form but that we should be receptive to proposals from our debtors of tangible compensation in other forms than direct payment in expansion of markets for the products of our labor and our farms, and I have stated further that substantial reduction of world armament which will relieve our own and world burdens and dangers has a bearing upon this question."

"If negotiations are to be undertaken as requested by these governments, protracted and detailed discussions would be necessary which could not be concluded during my administration."

"Any negotiation of this question on the basis of the requests of these governments is limited by the resolution of Congress (which expressly declared the American policy to be against cancellation or reduction). And if there is to be any change in the attitude of the Congress it will be greatly affected by the views of those members who

V. F. W. Post and Its Auxiliary Attend Service

Delker-Watkins Post, V. F. W., 2385, and Auxiliary, participated in Armistice day service at the Bristol Presbyterian Church yesterday. The Rev. S.
Brooks Knowlton dwelt upon the present-day meaning of Armistice Day, at 11 a. m.

The post and auxiliary also attended the Harriman M. E. Church in a body for the special patriotic Armistice service.

The auxiliary will have its regular meeting tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the McCrory building.

Dismisses Complaint Of Superior Zinc Corporation

Holding that provisions of the Interstate Commerce Act cannot be set aside by agreement of parties involved in disputes under the law, Examiner John Davey reported to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington that complaint of the Superior Zinc Corporation, here at Bristol, against the Pennsylvania Railroad, regarding charges for moving cars at the plant here, should be dismissed.

PHILA. LAD KIDNAPPED Phila., Nov. 14.—William Bauers, 7, was kidnapped while on his way to school today by two men who threw the lad into a machine driven by a third man. The abduction took place in the Germantown section of the city.
Before persons in the neighborhood could reach the scene the machine sped away. The men were last seen driving south on Seventh street with the lad struggling and crying in the arms of one of the men in the rear of the car. The youngster's frantic parents reported the kidnapping to the police. Immediately the radio bureau sent out flashes to all cars in the city. State Police transmitted the flashes to other parts of the State.

The motive for the abduction was a mystery as the victim's parents are not wealthy, the police said. William was described as about 3 feet tall, 60 pounds in weight, brown hair and light complexion. He wore a black overcoat, blue trousers and short brown socks and black shoes.

MISS GUGGENHEIM ENGAGED
New York City, Nov. 14.—News of the engagement of Natalie Guggenheim, 21, copper fortune heiress, to Robert N. Studdin, 28, socially prominent son of Charles H. Studdin, was made public today by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Guggenheim, of Roslyn, N. Y. Miss Guggen-heim's first romance ended with the annulment of her marriage to Thomas Gorman, real estate salesman with whom she eloped in 1929.

SEARCH FOR "CRASH-CAR" Phila., Nov. 14.—Police were searching today for the driver of a New Jersey machine who sped away from the scene after a crash here last night in which a young woman was injured.
Charlotte Cunningham, 24, was in the hospital today suffering from cuts and lacerations. John Cunningham said the other driver backed away from the wreckage of his car and drove away.

AGAINST DEBT HOLIDAY
Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—A hostile reception in Congress awaits any proposal President Hoover may make toward considering favorably the formal request of the British and French governments for an extension of the Hoover war debt holiday. This became more apparent as members of Congress, both Democratic and Republican, gave careful scrutiny to the text of the British and French notes delivered to Secretary of State Stimson last week and made public on Sunday while awaiting the return of President Hoover. The sentiment among leaders of both parties was that the European nations in presenting their pleas for further leniency of their debts to this country at this time are following a lost cause.

Without the consent of Congress, the executive branch of the government is unable to suspend collection of the debt installment when due except in so far as the debt funded agreements provide for a two-year extension of that proportion of the installment which is amortization of the principal.
That portion which is interest money must be paid, default being the only alternative. Congressional leaders after reading the notes, gave every indication they will not agree to further delay in the payments due.

75TH ANNIVERSARY OF BETHEL CHURCH MARKED

Celebrated Throughout This Week With Special
Meetings

COMMITTEE IS ACTIVE

The 75th anniversary of Bethel A.
M. E. Church will be celebrated this week, services being conducted from Monday to Sunday, inclusive.

Special exercises have been arranged for by the general committee, which consists of: Viola Fisher, Quila Jones, Anna Bosley, Sara Roe, Ida
Ross, Martha Mercer, Estelle Hill, Hattie Brown, Mary Frank, Anna Massey, Emma Payne, Charles Fisher, Daniel Phillips, Philip Jones, William Mercer, Lucy Fisher, Sara Conn, Elton
Lindsay, Ruth Mount, Elva Laws, Marion Muncie, Mary Young, Mae Allen, Catherine Muncie, William Robinson.

Exercises will be: This evening, prayer service, Rev. E. D. Fells, of Second Baptist Church, auspices of senior stewards; Tuesday evening, prayer service, presiding elder of South Philadelphia District, Rev. H.
H. Cooper, auspices of junior stewards;
Wednesday evening, platform services by local preachers, auspices of the Trustee Aid; Thursday evening, prayer by the Rev. S. W. Wilmore, Lancaster; Friday evening, prayer by the Rev. Matthews Hamlin, Langhorne, and music by Langhorne Choir, auspices of Iona Club.

Rev. J. O. Mackall is pastor of this church which has given 75 years of service to the community.

Business As Usual Her Motto

Although her husband has been chosen for the highest honor within the gift of the nation, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will soon become "First Lady of the Land," goes about her usual business just as if nothing had happened. The wife of the President-elect is shown here as she left her New York home the morning after election day to teach her class at the Todhunter School. With Mrs. Roosevelt is her granddaughter, "Sissy" Dall, who is one of her pupils.

ARMISTICE ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED AT DINNER

75 Gather When Langhorne Legion Post and Auxiliary Celebrate

SEVERAL GIVE TALKS

LANGHORNE, Nov. 14.—Seventy-five men and women, members and friends of Jesse W. Soby Post, 118, American Legion, and American Legion Auxiliary, gathered in the memorial house here Saturday evening to observe the 14th anniversary of the signing of the Armistice.

A dinner was served at 7 o'clock,
and then followed with greetings,
short addresses, dancing and cards.
Mrs. Warren Randall, president of the auxiliary, greeted the assemblage, and introduced the Rev. James C. Gilbert, post chaplain, as toastmaster.

One of the most humorous parts of the evening program was the reading by Rev. Gilbert of a chapter of "Dear Mabel," which recalled scenes in France to the minds of many a veteran present. The remarks of the toastmaster were interspersed with timely witticisms.

Turning to a more serious vein the Rev. Gilbert stated that all should help to "legislate" peace, adding that people throughout the nation cherish the ideals of peace. "We are here tonight not just to have a dinner, but we are here because we cherish the ideals we cherished 14 years ago. We are here because we want to continue in the same fellowship that enabled us to have a great victory."

William A. Thomas, deputy commander of the ninth district, Department of Pennsylvania, spoke upon pertinent subjects, including European debts to the United States, and work of the Economy League. "We have been lenient; now let us consider America first, and Europe second," stated Mr. Thomas.

Commander Joseph Zolot, of the Soby Post, spoke of the ideals and achievements of the American Legion.
Mrs. Annie Soby, mother of the late Jesse W. Soby for whom the post was named, was the honor guest of the evening.

Miss Mary Keating presented a past president's pin to Mrs. Roscoe L. Horner, who retired as president this fall.
Music was furnished by a six-piece orchestra, and war-time songs were led by Howard Phillips. Decorations were in the national colors, and bouquets of cut flowers. The menu, served by members of the Girls' Friendly Society, Hulmeville P. E. Church, consisted of: Baked ham, mashed potatoes, stewed tomatoes, cold slaw, rolls, butter, apple pie, coffee, salted nuts,
mints.

Junior Catholic Daughters
Conduct An Election

The first meeting of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America was held Friday evening in Hibernian Hall.
The meeting was opened with a short talk by Father F. J. Mealy, chaplain of the J. C. D. of A. The grand regent, Miss Anita Lynn, and chairlady, Miss Bessie Rafferty, also addressed the meeting.

Election of officers resulted thus:
Miss Mary McMahon, president; Miss Marguerite Gallagher, vice-president;
Miss Mary Perry, secretary; and Miss Margaret Duffy, reporter. The newly-elected officers made speeches of acceptance.

The girls enjoyed refreshments which were served by the Senior Catholic Daughters of America.

TWO WOMEN KILLED;
FOUR OTHERS INJURED

Cars Crash Head-On on Lincoln Highway at Parkland

ONE IN HOSPITAL HERE

One of the four women injured in the automobile accident in which two women were killed Saturday afternoon remains in the Harriman hospital. The accident occurred on the Lincoln Highway at Parkland when two cars crashed head-on as one attempted to pass a bus.

Dead:
Mrs. Lucy DeLigny, 34, 9130 48th avenue, Elmhurst, Long Island. Died immediately after the crash.

Mrs. Richard Crankshaw, 52, 1115 Arrot street, Philadelphia, pronounced dead upon arrival at the Harriman Hospital, Bristol. Her neck was broken.

Injured:
Miss Edna Crankshaw, 25, 1115 Ar-rot street, Philadelphia.

Miss Crankshaw, who was driving the car, is in Harriman Hospital suffering from severe lacerations and shock.

Mrs. Jane M. Romagna, 38 years old,
of 1 Adams street, Fort Washington, N. Y., is in Frankford Hospital with a possible fractured jaw. She was the driver of the car in which Mrs. De-Ligny was a passenger. They were proceeding to Valley Forge, to watch Mrs. Romagna's son, Victor, Jr., play football.

Miss Helen Malito, also of Elm-hurst, was treated at the scene for cuts and bruises. Juliet Malito, 19 years old, a niece of Helen, is in St.
Francis Hospital, Trenton, with concussion of the brain and internal injuries.

The drivers, according to police,
will be arrested when recovered from their injuries and will be placed under $2,000 bail each to await the outcome of a coroner's inquest.

The Crankshaws were on their way to New-York. Mr. Crankshaw, a well-known attorney of Philadelphia, had been in Europe and arrived in port Saturday. His wife and daughter were on their way to meet him and to take him back to Philadelphia.

An investigation was immediately started by Corporal M. B. McAfee and Patrolmen Diem and Yohr, of the South Langhorne State Highway Patrol.

According to what Mrs. Romagna told police, the Crankshaw car pulled from behind a passenger bus and darted almost into the path of her car.

Grand Films This Week
Approved By Council

The Better Films Council will conduct its regular monthly meeting in the Travel Club home tonight at eight o'clock, with Mrs. T. B. Megarce, chairman, in charge of the program.

As all motion pictures are not suitable for children, or for all groups of individuals, the Council will have published each week a list of films showing at the local theatre which have been approved by the council. It will also be stated for what groups the pictures are suitable, and thus furnish for parents a reliable guide for choice of pictures their children might view.

All the films showing at the Grand Theatre this week have been approved by the council, and are: "Blonde of June 13th," for adults and young adults; and "Pack Up Your Troubles," family picture.

RUNS DOWN OFFICER AT MILL AND POND STS.

Ross Phillips Knocked Unconscious When Thrown to Highway

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Police Officer Ross Phillips was run down and rendered unconscious last night by an automobile when struck at Mill street and the highway. The car was operated by John F. Waters, 143 Buckley street. The injured officer was taken to the hospital of Dr. J.
Fred Wagner where it was stated the extent of his injuries could not be fully ascertained until today.

Phillips who was doing patrol duty in the business section was crossing the highway to call headquarters at about 7.30 o'clock. The machine driven by Waters was traveling down the highway and Waters says he did not see the officer.

Phillips was thrown with such force against the concrete roadway that he was rendered unconscious.

Waters reported the accident to police headquarters and was permitted to go until further notice.

John Margerum, 792 Corson street, was with Waters at the time of the accident.

Waters is in the U. S. Navy and had to report to the Navy Yard at Philadelphia early this morning.

Won Congress Seat

To Miss Kathryn O'Loughlin, of Hays, Kansas, falls the honor of being the first woman to represent her State in Congress. She recently defeated Representative C. I. Sparks for his seat in the 6th Kansas District. Miss O'Loughlin is a Democrat, a lawyer by profession and a former member of the State Legislature.

DELEGATES FROM TEN
UNIONS AT INSTITUTE

Bristol W. C. T. U. Has Two Excellent Meetings;
Fine Speakers

URGE STAUNCH STAND

Ten Unions—Churchville, Falls-
ington, Hulmeville, Langhorne, Makefield, Morrisville, Richboro, Yardley and Bristol, were represented at the W. C.
T. U. Institute held in the Travel Club Home, Saturday.

At the morning session Miss Emily I. Packer, evangelistic director for the county in her inspiring message dwelt upon St. Paul's admonition to the Ephesians: "Put on the whole armor of God that ye may be able to stand in the evil day, and having done all to stand" firm in the faith that invisible spiritual forces are round about all ready to work out God's plan in His own good time. As revealed to Elsha when the veil was lifted, "And beyond the dim unknown standeth God amid the shadows keeping watch above His own." The same thought had been chosen by two other speakers, not knowing the plan of the others, Mrs.
Lucy A. Harper, president of Bucks County, who spoke in the morning, and Mrs. Luella Nolan, president of Chester County, in the afternoon.

Mrs. Harper urged the duty of standing firmly for the right, ready for work as the Roman soldier under the ruins of Pompeii, petrified, erect, faithful at his post buried deep in the avalanche of burning lava. Mrs. Harper also stressed the need of more intelligent voting, as so few men or women know how to cut the ticket properly.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, president of Montgomery County, told of the work in her district in filling a slate of dry candidates. Though defeated by the politicians, still "No endeavor is in vain, its reward is in the doing, and the prize the vanquished win is the rapture of pursuing."

Miss Gladys Harper, county Y. P. B. leader, told of the young people's banquet at the recent state convention at York, attended by 500, and urged the importance of enlisting the young as the future voters.

Mrs. Gilton, of Morrisville, and Mrs.
Ada Sands, of Bristol, who were delegates to the convention, gave incidents of the sessions.

Miss Marian Longshore, county director of the Peace Department, told of the new life and impetus given the Geneva Conference by President Hoover's proposal to cut the aggressive armaments of the world by almost one-third. Mrs. Thomas Lawrence, of Bristol, offered the noon-tide prayer, Rev. Clarence Howell, pastor of Bristol Methodist Church, opened the afternoon session with prayer and readings from St. Paul's letter to Timothy. "The love of money is the root of all evil—which while some coveted after they have erred from the faith and pierced themselves through with many sorrows," as shown in Mrs.
Nolan's recital of the money power of

Speaker of Prominence To Speak at Guild Exhibit

EDGELY, Nov. 14.—Miss Rosamond K. Bender, national secretary of the Needlework Guild of America, who is located at the national executive office in Philadelphia, will be one of the speakers at the annual exhibit of the Edgely Branch of the Guild at the home of Mrs. Thomas G. Hawkes, "Shadyside," here, tomorrow at 2.30
p. m.

Another speaker will be Miss Edith McComb, social service director of St.
Christopher's Home for Children, Philadelphia. The public is invited to attend the meeting and view the display of garments.

STEAL TAXI AFTER
ORDERING DRIVER
OUT OF THE CAB

Passengers Were Driven From Philadelphia to Croydon, Says Victim

TRIED TO ROB DRIVER

Had No Money So Chauffeur
Was Ordered Out
Into Road

A driver of a taxicab in Philadelphia reports that he was held up and ordered from the machine Saturday midnight on the Newportville Road, near here, by two men who had engaged him to drive them from Philadelphia to Croydon.

The taxi driver, Max Miller, 30, 3308
W. Hagart street, Philadelphia, walked to the nearest telephone and reported what had happened, to Bucks County Detective Anthony Russo and State Police at Morrisville. Both Russo and State Police went to the scene where they found Miller, who related what had happened.

Miller told the officers that Saturday night at about 10 o'clock he answered
a call to Jasper and Ontario streets, Philadelphia. There two men, one described as being about five feet and eight inches tall, slender, 20 years of age, and the other as being an inch taller, slightly younger and of medium build, got into the cab and ordered Miller to drive them to Croydon.

Upon reaching Croydon neither man appeared to know just where they wanted to go and had Miller drive them around. Then they came upon the Newportville road, where Miller says he was ordered to hand over his money. He claims he had no money so was ordered to leave the cab. The pair then drove off in the yellow cab bearing Pennsylvania license 01675.

Scouts of Bristol Are Guests, Friends Meeting

Bristol Boy Scouts participated in Friends Meeting yesterday morning as part of Armistice Week observance.
Scouts and leaders from nearly all local troops were in attendance, and were welcomed by Harry C. Evans, who said "You will always find the right hand of good fellowship extended to all who will enter the portals of this old Meeting House. We take great pride in having the Boy Scouts and Friends present at this first Meeting.
We know that the Boy Scouts represent the best to be found in boyhood life."

Richmond P. Miller, professor in charge of Bible study at George School, was the speaker of the morning, and emphasized the need for all to think of life and what it should hold.
He illustrated a number of points of view, as to what the boys' responsibilities are to life.

Walter F. Leedom spoke of the historical background of the Friends Meeting, and the method of worship followed out by the Friends. He encouraged the guests to tour the Meeting House so that they could see the equipment that has been used for hundreds of years.

Scout Executive William F. Liver-more thanked the Meeting for having invited the Boy Scouts to participate in the morning service.

GAINS DESPITE POLITICS

Pointing out that the first upward surge of industry in the last three years took place during the period of most political uncertainty, leading business men and trade association executives scoff at the idea that the election has hurt business and believe business can capitalize upon it if both parties cooperate in consolidating the gains already made.

These business executives predict a renewal of confidence on the part of the public and business, which can be aided by a political coalition of some sort. This would mitigate the four months' stalemate which usually ensues prior to the inauguration of a new administration.

Two plans have been suggested. President Hoover might invite the president-elect to participate in his cabinet discussions, or, in the event of the early selection of the Roosevelt cabinet, admit its members to cabinet sessions and their respective departments that they may familiarize themselves with their duties.

Although politics is an important factor in business its relative importance can best be judged by the fact that the business upturn started in the period when political uncertainty was at its highest peak and has continued despite the campaign. That fact proves that when business conditions are right trade will improve regardless of politics.

The influence of politics upon general business operations is subject to definite limitations, but it is hoped that politicians from this time on shall place no limitations on their efforts to influence business for the better.

SERIOUS

Girls of high school age are about as serious as any group of people in the world. Those who do any thinking at all about what comes after graduation day do it in a very earnest way. Their elders frequently get the backwash of the solemn discussion that goes on when they are out of earshot.

It is surprising that the matter of a job is the controlling interest of nearly all these sober symposiums. Girls not yet of college age are asking those in and out of college if the time spent in the classroom is worth while.

To grown people it may sound a little foolish to hear these nice youngsters still in high school talking about life with a capital "L," but there is no denying their determination to get into the thick of it.

Highly exaggerated and unfair have been the popular criticisms of the day branding all young women of high school age as "dizzy flappers" and as "beautiful, dumb and delirious." The flightiest of them have their moments of seriousness and purposefulness.

The modern miss is not a helpless creature dependent upon provident parents or matrimony for subsistence. Nor is watchful waiting her policy. She wants to accomplish something until that time comes when she may be called upon to perform that greater duty of making a home.

Alimony might be called the marry-ha-ha.

A New York doctor who advises against too frequent bathing in winter is making a strong bid for popularity.

HULMEVILLE

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Schneider at their home here yesterday morning.

In honor of their 45th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Williams were surprised Wednesday evening at their residence here, when members of their family gathered for a social time. Refreshments were served in the dining-room which was decorated in orange and black. Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. LaGrand King, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dressler, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schantzembach, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Boyle and daughter, of Florence, N. J.; Miss Margaret Lee, Allentown; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams and daughter, Sylvia, and Samuel Williams, of Hulmeville.

Miss Alice Cliver and William Quinlan were united in marriage Friday evening at the home of Charles Laros, ceremony being performed by the Rev. James C. Gilbert, rector of Grace P. E. Church. Witnesses were Mrs. Helen Sickles and Miss Ida Roberts.

The Peppy Pals sewing class members will meet at the home of Miss Elma E. Haefner tomorrow evening. Parent-Teacher Association will conduct a meeting in the school house Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

FALLSINGTON

Bishop Taft confirmed eleven persons at All Saints' Episcopal Church on Wednesday evening. Special music was provided by the choir.

The sophomore class of Falls Township High School held a dance in community hall on Saturday evening, November 12th. Music was furnished by Emma Hall and her girls.

Mr. and Mrs. McCrady and Mrs. Dowling were Friday visitors in Princeton. Miss Alice Headley, of Buck Hall Inn, is spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Headley.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheese and daughter

Dorothy, of Langhorne, were Friday visitors at M. W. Moon's.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Satterthwaite, of Bristol, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Annie Satterthwaite.

A nurseryman from Moon's nurseries, who makes a study of trees, found one of the largest hickory trees in the United States, on the farm of A. E. Vetherill, near Allentown, N. J. The trunk of this huge specimen measures 13 feet 8 inches, and the entire tree is in splendid condition. This tree is between 250 and 300 years old, it being known that this species makes a growth of 1 inch every 3 or 4 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kloppenberg and son Elwood were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Collins, Penn's Manor.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Burton recently entertained a number of friends at their home.

Bishop Taft was a dinner guest of Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Smith, Wednesday.

Rev. Francis H. Smith officiated at the funeral of John Elmer Barber, who was buried on Saturday from his home in Morrisville. Interment in Greenwood Cemetery.

There are also other important questions as to which I think an interchange of views would be in the public interest. The building up of world economic stability is, of course, of the greatest importance in the building up of our recovery. As you know, a world economic conference will be held during the course of the coming winter. Already two American experts have met with the technical experts of other governments to prepare tentative agenda. While this conference may be begun during my administration, it is certain that it will not complete its labors until after you have assumed office.

"Parallel with this, of course, is the disarmament conference in which the United States has taken a leading part. This also has a great economic purpose as well as the advancement of world peace."

"Time is of great importance in all these questions," concluded the Hoover invitation, "and I understand you are planning to come through Washington during the latter part of next week (this week, the message having gone off Saturday) and I hope you will find it convenient to stop off long enough for me to advise with you. I should, of course, be only too glad to have you bring into this conference any of the Democratic congressional leaders or other advisers you may wish."

Today, the President's train was due to pass through New Mexico and Texas and into Kansas. A revised schedule is made necessary by the side trip to Hoover Dam.

STATE NEWS

UNIONTOWN—Memories of the ill-fated stand of General Braddock against the warring French and Indians are revived with the unearthing of several pieces of combat equipment along the trail followed by the retreating English commandant in the mountains east of here.

Among the articles discovered are an eight-inch cannon ball, tomahawk heads, spokes from a wheel of a cannon carrier, a horseshoe, and nearly half a hundred pieces of shot.

The search for other equipment which history says was buried by General Braddock and his detachment rather than permit it to fall into the enemy's hands is continuing with the

OUR DAILY FOOD
By COLONEL GOODBODY

KENTUCKY FOR GOOD APPETITES
"COLONEL," said George Rector to no one the other day, "I have decided that there is such a thing as fate, and what's more, I am going to prove it to you. Now take Abe Lincoln for example. Lincoln was known as the 'rail splitter,' and I don't mind telling you, Colonel," continued Mr. Rector, "when a man is in the great outdoors, splitting rails all day he works up a tremendous appetite for himself. Wasn't it fate then that Abe Lincoln picked the right state for a man with an appetite to be born in? Yes, indeed, Colonel, when Abe Lincoln picked Kentucky as the state he was going to be born in, he did just the right thing."

Perhaps Mr. Rector is carrying this fate idea a little too far, but I most certainly agree with him that Kentucky is an excellent state for a man with an appetite to live in. Just listen to this typical Kentucky meal. Fried chicken with cream gravy; candied sweet potatoes; spinach; corn pone; strawberry preserves; mixed pickles; peach shortcake with whipped cream; and coffee. My! Isn't that a meal for anybody's appetite?

Of course, back in the days when Daniel Boone came through the Cumberland Gap with his gleaming axe and his long-barreled rifle, blazing a trail to the whole great American West, he couldn't prepare the meal I have just outlined, but the typical Daniel Boone dinner sounds just as appetizing. Say a nice trout broiled over an open fire—some tender, juicy venison steak—a large slice of the breast of a wild turkey—a couple of partridges roasted in the coals until they're golden brown—

George Rector and I talked over these two meals and George complained, saying that I was inciting him to violence. "You know, Colonel," he said, "I am a peaceful man except when I am hungry. You may not know it, but every woman knows that a hungry man is the nearest thing to a cross between a grizzly bear and a Siamese fighting fish. Every woman knows there is only one way to bring him back to his old smiling self—and that is to feed him—quick!"

The subject that started our discussion was Kentucky. And after Judge Gordon and I fed Mr. Rector he told us some very interesting things about the state. He told us about the more than 16,000 square miles of rich farm lands in Kentucky—and he mentioned some of the historically famous people who lived in Kentucky—Henry Clay, for example; Audubon, the naturalist; George Keats, youngest brother of the famous English poet; and of course, Abe Lincoln.

Outstanding in Mr. Rector's mind, however, was this one fact—that next to Abe Lincoln and above all other things such as the Kentucky derby, the great tobacco fields, the Mammoth Cave, Daniel Boone, Steven Foster's song about "The Sun Shines Bright on My Old Kentucky Home"—a greater monument than all of these, says Mr. Rector, is good Old Kentucky food.

TO ARDANELLE IN COLORADO
(By Mario Lanza)

The wild flowers and pine trees are waiting for you. Your little cottage waits to be restored; The stars, so bright, are waiting for you. To enchant your heart once more. All Nature waits with her arms open. To show you her beautiful secrets. The mountains, like sacred monuments, are silent. Silent, waiting for you.

Breathe deeply, with your heart content, the Air so pure, hear the crystalline waters. Where many times we quenched our thirst. Comes Night—turn your eyes to the sky To admire Venus, and all the sister stars. We too, are sighing, and saying—"Colorado."

NEW WILMINGTON — What to do with old tooth brushes is a problem which Dr. Herbert L. Davis, professor of chemistry at Westminster College, has solved, he explains:

"Dissolved in acetone or in a number of other suitable organic solvents, the tooth brush handles form a solution similar to the familiar new skin for popular use in covering minor cuts.

"Better than new skin, however, the solution made from tooth brushes also can be used as high quality glue. It is not affected by ordinary fumes common to a laboratory or by water."

FOOT HEALTH
WEAK FEET
by
WILLIAM A. GROFF
Foot Specialist 329 Radcliffe St.

When the feet are weak the foot turns outward. It bulges on the inner side, and the arch is flattened out. This results in strain and the weight of the body is then carried not by the bones but by the muscles and ligaments of the foot. The continued strain then serves to stretch these muscles and ligaments, the foot becomes weaker, and flat foot results. Flat foot causes much pain. The foot is flat only when the entire surface of the sole rests on the ground. The important causes for weak feet are, first, the wearing of improper shoes and stockings. Another cause is the engaging in occupations that force one to stand all day. Weakness of the feet will result after general poor health or a prolonged exhausting sickness. It may come from injuries of the foot, overweight and poor nutrition. The all-important factor in regard to flat feet is prevention. Overweight and malnutrition must be prevented. The right kind of shoes must be worn. Individuals who have work that requires long standing should rest with their feet elevated, at regular intervals. Exercises for the feet which strengthen the muscles and ligaments should be taken daily.—(Adv.)

WHAT CAUSES STOMACH GAS

Doctors Find Most Cases Due to One Condition. Stomach Sufferers Find Relief.

Sufferers from gas bloating, indigestion and similar troubles will be interested to know that recent medical discoveries have found the cause of these disorders. The disease is called Intestinal Stasis. It is the result of the inactive life most of us lead today, and improper food that does not give our digestive organs enough exercise. It is one of the most common diseases known to mankind. Three out of four persons have it.

What Is Intestinal Stasis?
Intestinal Stasis is the too slow movement of waste matter through the bowels. It is a nice name for constipation, for you can have one, or possibly two, INCOMPLETE bowel movements a day and still have Intestinal Stasis. Any waste food matter, from which the body has taken all nourishment, that stays in the bowel tract too long will cause gas and poisons to accumulate.

This takes away your pep, gives you a lousy, listless feeling. It often results in dull headaches and even more serious trouble. This suffering is entirely unnecessary for you can get quick and complete relief by giving your system a REAL intestinal cleansing with Adierika.

Get Quick Positive Action

Laxatives or pills seldom overcome Intestinal Stasis. Soda, magnesia, "gas tablets," or powders give only temporary relief. Intestinal Stasis and the diseases of which it is the real cause are helped best by continued REAL intestinal cleansing, and by increasing the natural activity of the bowel tract. Adierika gets to the bottom of your trouble by removing the cause. Ordinary laxatives and physics act on the lower bowel only, but Adierika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowels. Adierika is thorough in action, yet acts without discomfort of any kind. It can be given to any member of the family with complete safety, for it contains no harmful drugs. Adierika is quick in its action, often giving relief in thirty minutes. Don't suffer another hour from indigestion, nervous dyspepsia, dull headaches, sleeplessness, sour stomach and gas bloating. Get Adierika today at your drug store and learn what complete relief really is. FREE SAMPLE will be mailed on request. Address Adierika, S. Wabasha, St. Paul, Minn. Sold by all druggists and drug departments. Sold in Bristol by Holliman's Cut Rate Store.—(Adv.)

MUFFLERS OF WOOL LENDING VARIETY TO WINTER SUITS

Fashion Turning Decidedly Back to the Scarf Age

By ALICE LANGEIER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS—"Muffle It" seems to be the most important slogan of the smart dressmakers this winter. Fashion is most decidedly back in the Scarf Age!

Only a few years back women were winding scarves of beautiful silk squares and triangles about their fair throats. Now it is the woolen muffler, usually hand-knitted, that gives variety to autumn and winter suits, not only by its lovely colors, but by the way Madame wears it.

One of the fashion makers is showing a new stubby scarf, cut with ends short and square, made from fabric like the woolen town-sports suit and particularly effective when attached to one side of the coat front and tied at the centre-back. There are no knots nor bows, it is merely tied once with the stubby ends loose.

The large artist's bow is a feature of many smart wool models. Bruyere makes his muffler of the lovely brown cloth of the lower part of a chic coat and ties it in a huge bow under the chin. The upper part of the coat comes of golden seal which is very much in fashion this winter.

The muffler front trims many a new coat-frock. One in deep pasturum-yellow lining has the front open without any fastening over a black and white muffler tucked in under a yellow and white one.

Fringed mufflers are also much in evidence, drawn under the pinature front of the frock and gracefully draped on the shoulder.

VIKINGS OF MAYFAIR LACED BY ELEPHANTS

(By "Sid" Popkin)
After four undefeated games the White Elephants laced the strong Mayfair Vikings by a score of 13-6. Saturday, both touchdowns being made by the hard-fighting half-back, Spencer.

The feature plays of the game were the double reverse, fake spinner and lateral passes. The double reverse brought the ball from the local boys' 30-yard line to their opponents' 10-yard line, but failed to score on downs. The line deserved much credit for its well-timed interference. Eddie Sullivan also deserves much credit for his fine selection of plays and passing ability.

The opponents' touchdown was made by a series of end runs and finally brought over the final chalk line by Berger, fast-fighting Northeast back. Graham, although the quarter back of the Drexel Freshmen, could call no play that could break through the strong line of the White Elephants.

The impregnable line of the Elephants not only opened many holes for their aggressive backs, but also were the ruin of Mayfair's plays. The White Elephants have accepted a challenge from the Edgely Fire Co. next week.

INVESTIGATE DUEL DEATH

Easton, Md., Nov. 14.—A pistol duel between two farmers over a trivial quarrel, which ended in the death of one of the men, was being investigated by Sheriff T. G. Carroll. Robert Stewart, 35, survivor of the duel, went to his home after the shooting and called the authorities telling them what had happened, and where he could be found. The victim was Samuel Pittman, 34, who resided near Jarrettsville. Sheriff Carroll said Pittman drew his gun and shot at Stewart several times. Then the Sheriff said Stewart drew his own revolver and shot Pittman four times, killing him instantly.

ST. ANN'S LOSES, BUT GIVES STIFF BATTLE

(By T. M. Jono)
DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 14.—Although it received the stiffest opposition of the season, the Doylestown Blue Sox eliminated the St. Ann's eleven, of Bristol, on the Community Field yesterday. The final score of the fray was 7-0.

Four thousand fans, most of whom were from Bristol, witnessed the fray and was the largest crowd seen on the Doylestown field this season. The St. Ann's eleven was led to the field by the State Champion Bristol American Legion Cadet Drum and Bugle Corps who gave an exhibition between halves and was accorded a big hand by the spectators.

The fray was the first of a series to decide the championship of Bucks County and now that the most dangerous opposition has been relieved, the Doylestown eleven will meet the Sellersville Green Jackets in an effort to be crowned the Bucks champions.

A long forward pass, Zeek to Richar, put the ball in the scoring position for the Doylestown team to score. The ball was resting on the forty-two yard line when Zeek went back and threw a long pass to Richar who was downed on the eight yard line. Zeek made six yards on two line plays and Murray brought the ball to within one-half yard of the line on an off-tackle play. This made it fourth down with but one-half a yard to go. Murray found an opening off-tackle and slipped through for the only score of the game. Zeek added the extra point with a line play.

The "Saints" were dangerous from the start. Immediately after the touchdown was scored against them, the Purple and Gold began a march down the field and made four consecutive first downs and was on the Blue Sox's thirty-three yard line when they lost the ball on downs. Missera kicked to Doylestown five-yard line and the Blue Sox were with their backs to the goal.

post. However, Zeek came through with a long punt and the winners were away from the danger zone.

Late in the second period, a long pass, Missera to Espósito put the ball on Doylestown's twenty-five yard line but the play was recalled and St. Ann's penalized for off-sides.

With two minutes to play in the first half, the boys, coached by Ed Nele, marched down the field to the St. Ann's five-yard line but the half ended before Doylestown could start a drive to push the ball over.

Both clubs had chances to score in the second half but passed it up. The second half saw both of St. Ann's stars, "Socks" Seneca and "Gig" Missera, removed from the game because of injuries.

The tilt was the cleanest played on the Doylestown field this season and a return game is being planned by the St. Ann's management. This game will be played on Sullivan's field.

BRISTOL-BURLINGTON BRIDGE

By GRETA DRUM

The evening mists entangled in her hair,
As diamond-decked she breathes the still, quiet air—
Sweet River Goddess of the Delaware, Old as thy waters, and yet young and fair—
The years glide over thee as in a dream,
Still and unfathomed, as thy flowing stream.

Proudly we set two rubies in thy crown,
That gleaming bridge that spans from town to town,
Deeply they glow, as steals the evening light,
And while we gaze, swift falls the veil of night—
Still shine thy rubies through the darkness falling,
The air is full of river voices calling!

And these young children, who behold thee crowned Thus in thy glory from the cars home-bound,
Carrying sleepy little citizens to bed,
Will mind, when years have passed and we are gone,
Not all the wise and philosophic things we said—
But the sweet Summer nights we took them riding
To see the night come subtly, gently gliding,
Over our land of field, and tree and story
To crown the Delaware in radiant glory!

Two Women Killed; Four Others Injured

"It was too late for me to do anything," she told Corporal McAfee. "And then we hit head-on."
Thirty-five passengers in the bus witnessed the tragedy. The bus was driven by James Rosen, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. DeLigny was seated alongside of the driver and Mrs. Crankshaw occupied a similar seat in her car, driven by her daughter.

The accident occurred shortly after 1 o'clock when traffic was at its peak for the football games.

seven millionaires who have financed the wet campaign and propaganda. Mrs. Nolan read a number of newspaper clippings since the election, telling of the early prospects of unlimited beer, one man having taken his jug to the post office to be filled as he had been told if he voted wet Uncle Sam would supply his beer. Mrs. Nolan quoted the strong endorsement given the 18th amendment by a prominent member of the Federation of Women's Clubs at their recent convention.

Miss Anna Heritage presented pupils of 7th grade of the junior high school, who repeated their exercises used on Willard Day in the schools, September 28th, the boys speaking to the letters in the word, "Loyalty," declared each in turn his allegiance to Uncle Sam and his laws. Six girls, in white caps and aprons, "The Broom and the Brush Brigade," illustrated with their brooms after reciting their purpose, the diligence with which they would clean and brighten their homes and country.

Miss Grace Shaver sang at the morning session, "How Sleep the Brave," as appropriate to the Armistice season. Miss Elizabeth Gris sang in the afternoon "The Lord is my fortress and my strength."

Backs, Ends and Linesmen

By HARDIN BURNLEY

TED PETOSKEY
--OF MICHIGAN--
--GREATEST END IN THE MIDDLE WEST--
--TED IS ALSO AN EXCELLENT BACK, AND KIPKE CAN USE HIM IN EITHER POSITION!

SWEDEN OBERLANDER
PLAYED BOTH AS A LINESMAN AND IN THE BACKFIELD--AND WESLEY FESLER, ONE OF THE GREAT ENDS OF MODERN TIMES PLAYED OCCASIONALLY AS A BACK.

IT'S an old saying among football men that on the gridiron the backs get the cheers and the linesmen get the bruises. The spectacular ball carrier gets all the praise and the publicity, but the humble linesman who opens the path enabling the backfield star to get off on a long run is forgotten when football fans celebrate the heroes of the game. In fact, you might say the linesman is the real "Forgotten Man."

For the most part the boys who play on the line blossom unseen simply because the ordinary spectator has eyes only for the ball, and misses everything that occurs in front of the play.

Now and then, of course, there comes a linesman who by his very stature and picturesqueness grabs the spotlight. "Germany" Schultz was such a one at Michigan in the old Yost days. "Germany" was so big and so rangy that you couldn't overlook him--couldn't lose him in the mass.

Jack Cannon at Notre Dame was another linesman who caught the public's fancy. He played without a headguard and his black thatch stood out conspicuously among the leather-helmeted craniums on the football field.

Line play is very tough, and compared with it the backfield man's job is a cinch, as "Swede" Oberlander said when he was switched from the line to the backfield.

While the linesmen as a rule fail to catch the public eye, the ends often fare better. This is because the flankers are often great pass receivers, so that an end like Benny Osterbaan of Michigan became just as famous as Benny Friedman, the other half of the great Friedman-to-Osterbaan pass combination.

Out at Michigan this year, in addition to having a great team, Harry Kipke has an end who is being touted as a second Osterbaan. Ted Petoskey is his name and, while he does not quite rate with Osterbaan as a pass receiver, he has a slightly wider range than his famed predecessor and is quite as competent a blocker and tackler.

Petoskey recalls Osterbaan in his performance, which is natural since Benny is his coach and developer. Yost once said that Osterbaan never took an unnecessary step, and the same may be said of Petoskey.

Ted is a very capable backfield performer, as well as a great end, and Kipke uses him in the fullback position on occasion.

Wesley Fesler of Ohio State was another wonderful end who played in the backfield from time to time.

Chesterfields are Milder
Chesterfields Taste Better

To make tobaccos mild and mellow for Chesterfield cigarettes, just about four miles of warehouses are filled with mild, ripe Domestic leaf, stored away to age for two years.

The greater part of 90 million dollars is invested in these tobaccos. Is it surprising that Chesterfields are milder? That they taste better?

Everything known to Science is used to make Chesterfields right! They're mild—and yet They Satisfy.
